

No to dropping regulations on Broadband. This is detrimental to pricing for the smaller ISP. It would create an environment where only the bigger companies gain and have all the controls.